Hi Wayne -

No, I don't have a license for it. You have my permission to do what you describe.

Brian, I found the free sample address data in briandunning.com/sample-data to be useful for testing an application I am developing. But my manager wants for me to make sure that we have license to use these data before we check it in with our sources. Can you provide this for us?
